TOKYO GIRLS COLLECTION 2009 TOURS ON SALE Sold-Out Tickets Available at JAPANiCAN.com

TOKYO, JAPAN – Although the event is already sold out to the general public, packages to the September 2009 Tokyo Girls Collection are still available through the JTB Group's English-language website, JAPANiCAN.com. Ever since 2005 the Tokyo Girls Collection has celebrated trendy Tokyo youth fashions in a massive event that combines clothes, models, music, and celebrities. The event has gained fans from around the world thanks in part to its focus on the customers themselves rather than industry professionals. Japan's JTB Group today started selling packaged tours including tickets to the popular event.

The tour combines either reserved or free-seating tickets to the Tokyo Girls Collection with two nights in the convenient Hotel Vintage Shinjuku. Participants will receive their tickets after checking into the hotel on Friday, September 4th. The event starts the next day at nearby Yoyogi National Stadium. Tour participants will see the latest fashions from international and local brands like BEAMS, Another Edition, and Cecil McBee, showcased by Japan's top models. Performances by pop musicians like Thelma Aoyama and appearances by Japanese celebrities round out the event. Prices for the packaged tours available at JAPANiCAN.com start at JPY 18,200 per person and are on sale now. For more details, see JAPANiCAN's package listings at <http://www.japanican.com/tgc2009>.
